B. OTHER ACTIVITIES

1. The series of lectures at FSI on linguistics and language teaching, which some of our contract instructors have been attending, has been completed. Since it appeared that these lectures - which were aimed at FSI's native speakers and their particular functions, rather than at our instructors, whose functions are considerably different in many instances - had left our people with a number of questions, [] arranged for two meetings here on the days following. At the first of these meetings, [] spoke on the general subject of phonetics, and at the second, [] continued his remarks, and [] spoke on the subject of phonemics. The talks were found to be useful, and [] is planning to institute a regular series of talks on linguistics and language teaching in the fall, to be attended by as many members of the teaching staff as possible.

2. "The French Educational System" was the subject of an excellent talk in French given by [] of IO to the Full-Time Basic French class. The talk was very well organized and delivered in clear and fluent French. Students participated in the very profitable discussion period that followed.

3. The nine-month Classical Arabic Reading course, taught by [] has been completed. Six students finished the entire course, which is about 50% of the original enrollment. Of the six, three did outstandingly good jobs and are being encouraged to continue their Arabic studies. For this purpose, and for others of similar present proficiency, [] is offering a Classical Arabic Reading Workshop, beginning in October. Another basic reading course will also begin then.

25X1 4. For the first time we are offering a daytime course (part-time) in spoken Arabic. The course, to be taught by [] will run in three 20-week phases, beginning 6 October; the dialect is Jerusalem Arabic, which will also serve fairly well in Lebanon and parts of Syria, Jordan, and Egypt. We are being careful to make sure that those responsible in NEA are aware of this course well in advance, and it will be interesting to see what response we receive.

25X1 7. [] whom FE is lending to LAS for a year or so, has arrived to take up his duties. He will assist in the Japanese program and will also, if there is such a requirement, organize and present a course in Korean. He will remain in an FE slot.

25X1 10. Miss [] is on loan to LAS from the Pool for an indefinite period. She is helping with our clerical work.

B. OTHER ACTIVITIES

1. We are taking another look at the level of need and demand for area training on Latin America, which thus far has been excluded from our program as being beyond our resources. Since Vice President Nixon's trip to that area, several Agency personnel concerned with it have prodded us informally to act. Despite the flatly negative attitude at the December [] conference, of [] WH Executive Officer, we will take new soundings in WH, including either the Chief or his deputy. [] has already approached [] DC/WD/OCI, the senior OCI specialist on the area, who advises flatly that there is a considerable long-term need in WH and elsewhere in the Agency for a regional survey course, to broaden the perspective of country specialists.
2. [] spent 30 July - 1 August at Army Pictorial Center reviewing the rough cut and adjusting the narration of Part III of the "Free Europe" film. He is arranging through USIA contacts to have [] champion of European integration, speak the final lines of this part, which deals with "Steps toward Unity." Final trip to New York, it is hoped, will be made about 10 September. Preview of Parts I and II is set for 1500 hours on 11 August, in [] auditorium.
3. Congresswoman Bolton captivated [] Africa class. By her magnetic graciousness and manifest sincerity, as well as her knowledge of conditions and problems in Africa, the Hon. Mrs. Frances P. Bolton entertained, informed and inspired an unusually alert group. Mrs. Bolton communicated to this group, I think, some of the sense of mission which animates her approach to the problem of U. S. policy vis-a-vis Africa.
